Sep 28, 1998. Science fiction, drama/mystery, western, action, animation, fantasy. A small, very violent outbreak of a deadly virus occurs in the fictional country of See more. The Chronicles of Prydain: The Black Cauldron; The Chronicles of Prydain: The Book of Three; The Chronicles of Prydain: The Castle of Llyr; The Chronicles of Prydain: The Black. September 28, 1998. One of two dozen television series and movies produced by Hasbro Studios from 1995 to 1998. It was a US reimagining of the King Arthur legend. It was an adult animated series created by Steven Michael Quezada and David Feiss. at the costs of the utilities and other defendants for all of the damages. Appellant contends that the foregoing rulings were erroneous in that the principal actor and the innocent actor, if any, should share the liability on the theory of joint tortfeasors. He relies on the case of International & G.N. Ry. v. H.V. Hunt, 87 Colo. 153, 285 P. 897, and upon our case of Fitzmaurice v. Capital City Tank Co.,

84 Colo. 379, 271 P. 1030. These cases are not pertinent here. They involve the issue of whether the principal actor was the sole wrongdoer and whether the evidence supported the findings and conclusions that the principal was the sole wrongdoer. In this case, the issue is not as to the sole right to judgment against the principal actor but whether the cause of action against the principal is barred by the statute of limitations. The liability of the principal in an action against it is based upon the rule of the common law that the principal is liable for the tortious act of an agent committed within the scope of the agency. Lindley v. Benzaquen, 33 Colo. 452, 81 P. 1098. The principal is liable to the injured person, who is not a party to the contract of employment. These principles do not support appellant's position. It is true that the rule of the common law is that a principal is liable for the torts of his agent committed within the scope of his employment. This may be modified by statute or common law practice, but a principal is not liable to third persons for torts committed by his agent in the absence of some special relationship. Charles T. Brady v. Anthony, 97 Colo. 291, 49 P.2d 989. Here, we are not concerned 82157476af
